A METHOD IN OUR MADNESS

The Editor: Chauvin Chronicle.
Dear Sir:
We were rather interested to notice in last week's issue a comment on the foolishness of Battle riding having a lawyer as Government candidate, and of Hon. Arthur Meighen saying, that the soil from which the Wood-Crerar movement grew was not as Canadian as it should be—the writer flamboyantly comments "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

We will pass by the unCanadian imputation, by venturing to suggest that possibly the Prime Minister may have referred more to the birth place of the U.F. political ideal, than to the actual birth place of those who held them. And in saying so the Prime Minister is by no means alone in his view point on the "un-Canadian origin" of the movement.

However, we'll let that fly stick to the wall, and pass on to the evidence we find of more madness, in another of our distinguished campaigners. For instance. We find Hon. T. Crerar after dropping his best man to humour another man's fad, is now evidently intent on chasing round the country trying to get the government setting its campaign funds, while a student is a subject just interesting to people of a snappy turn of mind, or who have a tendency towards crookedness themselves.

But what we want to hear is,—What plans has the Hon. Thomas Crerar got towards the Wheat Board question,—the lack of markets, and the subject of the unemployed? To point to the farmers' platform isn't enough.

We want to know how free trade or gradual tariff reductions are going to be worked. How are we going to get free food,—coal—lumber and implements and other titbits on the N.P.P. after enormously increasing that 150000 unemployed over which he is now speaking with tears in his eyes?

Or again how does he propose getting our produce prices back to normal without the stabilising influence of a Wheat Board or something of that nature? In his silence on this subject due to his intention to hand over the farmers of Canada to the mercies of his company the U.G.G. If returned to power, in which case the Wheat Board would be too much like a policeman for said U.G.G.'s comfort?

But the real evidence of madness lies in a man who has backing his campaign the funds of the U.G.G.—(one of the biggest interests in the world)—accusing his fellow candidate of being in a similar position.

Taken all in all, we farmers stand to lose less by the madness of the Hon. Arthur Meighen, than we do by that shown by the President of our trading Company.

It's merely a question, of applying our common sense for practical purposes.

Then there is the ridicule thrown on the government candidates for being a lawyer. Your correspondent having laid no charge against Mr. Morrison's personal integrity and ability, we can start with the assumption that in this respect he is no different from the others.

Fram G.G.A. Endorse The Sinaltuta Motion

The usual monthly meeting of the above local was held on Saturday last, Mr. W. Pritchett (Vice-Pres.) in the chair. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, also the directors meeting held on October 21st. and these were passed as read. Mr. K. W. Coe then gave an account of the Conventions held at Weybarr and Wilkie at which he represented this local. His report being adopted he was warmly thanked for his successful efforts on behalf of this association.—The following resolutions were also carried.

(1) Resolved "That this meeting expresses its sympathy with its President (Mr. A. Lavold) in his illness, and hopes for a speedy recovery."

(2) Resolved "That this meeting of the Fram Grain Growers Association held on Nov. 5th 1921 does hereby approve of the resolution of the by the approve of the resolution of the Sinaltuta G. A. regarding the re-establishment of the Canadian Wheat Board, and that the Secretary be instructed to forward the sum of Five dollars to the Reeve of the Manitoulin County, in connection with this important matter."

The basket social to have been held on Nov. 11th was then discussed. The Secretary stated that he had been asked to bring the matter of the returned mens dance to be held on Armistice day before the meeting and to ask that the basket social be postponed in order that the returned men could old their dance without opposition from neighbouring schools. The opinion was expressed that the Fram G. G. A. had before making arrangements for their social asked if there was any dance or entertainment proposed for the returned men at Brady on Nov. 11th, and the reply had been that no plans had been made up to them, so they went ahead and arranged a box social for that date. Nothing more was heard until an announcement was made at a dance at Brady school on Oct. 28th that there would be a dance for the returned men of the district on Nov. 11th. On Nov. 2nd the matter was discussed at a meeting of the Manitoulin County.

A ladder feed in a fountain pen assures a steady and even flow of ink. This is very noticeable in the Swan Fountain Pen. The Swan manufacturers control the right to this feed—immediately you set the Swan pen on paper it starts to work. No fussing and priming is needed to start the pen. It just starts. It can't help start because the pen is made mechanically perfect, and the ladder feed will let only so much ink down at a time. No more or less.

A Swan fountain pen is always a very acceptable Xmas present. We have them from $2.75 to $12.50. We also have them "Fyne Point" pencil made by the Swan Manufacturing Co. in prices from $1.50 to $5. The advantage in giving either of these useful articles is that they are all the year round workers. They will be used not only Xmas day or Xmas week but every week in many years. ## HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

CIVIL SERVICE

The effectiveness of administration largely depends on the conduct and ability of the civil service of Canada, which is the term generally applied to all classes of public officials and employees in the several departments of the executive government.

"Civil service" is an old English phrase, used to distinguish the subordinates in the civil government from those in the naval and military services of the country, and is now divided into the inside, and outside service—the former being those in the several departments of the executive government at Ottawa, including the offices of auditor-general, the clerk of the privy council, the governor-general's secretary, the central experimental farm, the Dominion astronomical observatory, the outside division consists of the rest of the public service.

In 1908 a civil service commission was established consisting of two members appointed by the governor in council—and these commissioners hold office during good behaviour. Their duties are to test and pass on the qualifications of candidates and to receive and report on the operations of the civil service act and any violations thereof.

The most important changes introduced by this law besides the above are:

1. Appointments to the inside service by competitive examinations.

2. A re-classification of the service. Candidates, if successful, are received on probation for six months. If not rejected during this interval, they are "spo facto" permanently appointed.

Promotions are made by the governor in council on recommendation of the head of the department, based on the report of the deputy minister and accompanied by a certificate of qualification from the commission.

City postmasters, inspectors of post offices, inspectors, collectors, and preventive officers in the customs, (preventive officers are those whose duties are to prevent smuggling of goods into Canada, that is to say, without paying the duty required by law), and many others in the outside service, may be and are generally appointed without examination. These officers are generally given as rewards for political services, but steps are now being taken to prevent this in future, and to place the outside service in the same position as the inside service. The moment, however, these men are appointed and appointed themselves capable in the discharge of their duties, they are regarded as permanent officials.

Recognizing this, the public officials of the Dominion as a rule keep aloof from party conflict and intrigue and confine themselves to their duties. Previous to 1898 all officials of the civil service were entitled to a pension on retirement, after a service fixed by law, but in that year the system was abolished for future appointments, and in its place a "retirement fund" was created by the reservation of five per cent out of the salary of each official, on the off-

Juvenile Talent At W. I. Concert

The W. I. concert on Friday evening last must have been, judging from the well filled hall and the door receipts, from the Institute's point of view a decided success. The appreciative applause of the audience for most of the numbers indicated no lack of appreciation.

The children, in their opera, entitled "The Fairy Shoemaker" gave a very excellent performance, which received a hearty reception from the assembled audience. Their work indicated not only careful preparation by the tutors, but also real and honest effort on the part of the children. If there was a lack of enthusiasm and a slight uncertainty of attack in some of the chorus work, it was owing perhaps to the fact that they were weary, due to the unfortunate delay in commencing on time, and to the distracting flare of the lamps. The performance, taken as an whole was excellent, and they conducted themselves creditably.

The musical numbers were: Jeannette St. Pierre as "The Pedlar" showed considerable histrionic ability. The chief chorist, Blondin St. Jean spoke her lines with clear enunciation and kept her following well in order. Harker Saul transformed by wig and beard, looked and acted his "hundreds and hundreds" of years.

The repeated and hearty "lotter" left no doubt as to the audience's acceptance of "Just victims", a vaudeville sketch, by Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Foxwell.

Mrs. Roy, heard for the first time by most of the audience, gave real pleasure by her rendering of "Golden Yuletide" by Sidney Smith.

"The Little Irish Girl," was sung with charm by Mrs. Mann. A Scotch solo by Miss Armour; that favorite "The shooting of Dan Magreew" by Mr. Mann, and a burlesque country school completed an evening's entertainment. Dancing was kept up until 1 o'clock.

Card Of Thanks

The W.I. wish to thank all who helped in any way at the concert and dance given on Friday last.

Mr C. Roseau, who has left his homestead to take up his winter work in B. C., is spending a few days in town, the guest of his friend, C. Godin, at the Bachelor's hall.

Miss Ethel Smith returned to Saskatoon on Thursday last, after a two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Lavold returned to Chauvin Monday from Edmonton.

Miss Dorothy Saul, who is attending Normal at Camrose, came home for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mr. A. Lavold left on Saturday for Edmonton for medical treatment.

SOME THINGS WE DO KNOW

(Contributed)

Our mutual friend wants to know some things, but in the main answers most of the questions asked and ends by throwing bricks at farmers organizations in general and T. A. Crerar in particular.

Now without malice toward a talented mind, I will reply in part to this letter.

First of all, let me quote Sandy Mc Tavish. "I'm afraid fashioned, I suppose, but I never thought much o' Woman's Suffrage. I took the stan, and still tak it, that women dinna need the vote unless the men-folk are incapable of voting intelligently. An' if men are no' capable o' handling' the affairs o' the country, God help the country. Am I no' right about that, Mr. Editor? In case you dinna agree w' me, maybe ye'll tell me just what difference the adoption o' Woman's Suffrage has made in our politics? Be plain and specific, as the lawyers say. For my part, I think Woman's Suffrage has just increased the volume o' public stupidity in matters o' politics. Women, the kind that we a' admire and love, are no' the best we bit interested in politics, and never will be sac lang as they are married the worthy, intelligent men."

I would like to ask our friend to be kind about President Wood, he is an old man, he may look backward rather than forward, old people sometimes do. He means well and will do no harm.

A lot of us remember when the Hon. G. E. Foster wanted to fix the price of wheat at $1.35 Fort William basis, now H. W. Wood said it was unfair and after a hard fight got us $2.21 Fort William basis. This was for the 1917 crop. Then again when we were dissatisfied with the wheat board and wanted all the facts before the wheat was sold. Pres. Wood said "Leave the wheat board and Jim Stewart alone, you won't be sorry". This was January 1920. We listened to him and he was right. He may be wrong now, but he may not, let us wait and see.

Regarding the salaries of the U.G.G. officials, that is a question to be settled by the shareholders of that company and has nothing to do with federal politics. Mr. Crerar has nothing to do with federal politics. Mr. Crerar has certainly shown ability to build in fifteen years an organization like the U.G.G. in spite of opposition on all sides.

If Crerar's policy is hazy, Meighen has none to be hazy. He is using the worn out election cries of the past, while Crerar is the only one of the three who has a definite policy.

When Crerar speaks in the house of commons he uses arguments, but when Meighen speaks in the house of commons he relies on sarcasm, and often lets his tongue get the upper hand of his sense, and I got this information not from the U.G.G. but by reading, budget, and other speakers.

The object being to make him independent and fearless in performing his very important duties often involving the criticism of expenditures made by the government.

GREAT SEAL OF CANADA

By his majesty's command the government of the Dominion of Canada has authority to use a special great seal, composed of the royal effigy, with appropriate armorial surroundings and a combination of the arms of the four provinces that first entered into a federal union.

The new seal consists of:—

The king seated upon the throne, crowned, and with orb and sceptre in his hands. Placed apparently, upon the straight stems of two young oak trees on either side of him, the leaves and acorns showing between the shields, are four separate shields—upon his right hand hangs the coat of arms of Ontario, that of Nova Scotia beneath it; on his left the shield of Quebec, with that of New Brunswick below. Beneath his feet is a shield displaying his own coat of arms, without supporters, crown, or motto; in the tracery above the throne or chair of state is the motto: "Dieu et mon droit" (God and my Right). In the circular margin of the whole seal, in large letters:—"Georgius V Dei Gratia, Britanniarum et terrarum transmarinarum rex in ditione sancte Britanniae Rex, Fidei Defensor, Indis Imperator" and just inside the outer circle at foot of thence the words, "In Canada Sigillum, 1912."

(Interpretations:—"George V, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, king, defender of the Faith, Emperor of India. Seal in Canada, 1912.")

This seal, in accordance with the usages of English law, is the emblem of the royal authority in Canada, the evidence of the royal will and prerogative exercised under the constitutional forms peculiar to our system of government.

We trace the use of such a seal to very early times in English history. Its keeper was and still is the lord chancellor of England, the highest judicial officer. Absolute faith is given to every paper that bears this seal.

In Canada it is in the custody of the secretary of state and is affixed to proclamations summoning, proroguing and dissolving parliament; to the writs of election, commissions of lieutenant-governors, judges, members of the senate, chief clerks of the two houses, deputy ministers, and numerous other public officers. All documents bearing the great seal must be countersigned by the minister of justice and the secretary of state. The signature of the minister of justice is to show that the document is in proper legal form and lawful, and the secretary of state signs as custodian of the great seal, and to show that proper authority exists for the issue of the document.

THE DOMINION COAT OF ARMS

The arms of the Dominion are composed of the arms of the four original provinces—Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick—quartered or combined in one shield.

It is not unusual to add the armorial bearings of the other provinces that have been brought into the union since 1867—Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan—but this cannot properly be done without express royal authority, and until this is so ordered the correct and legal Dominion shield of arms is as stated above.

DOMINION FLAGS

The famous English flag commonly called the "union jack" is flown from all the fortresses and garrisons of Canada whether under the charge of Imperial military authorities or colonial militia forces.

The Union Jack is a combination of three flags. The red cross on the white ground is for England, the white cross with the arms placed diagonally on a blue ground is for Scotland, and the red cross with the arms diagonally on a white ground for Ireland.

The Dominion of Canada has also its own flag, viz., the red or blue ensign, a flag of plain red or blue having the union jack in the upper canton, or corner, next the mast, and the Dominion coat of arms in the fly, or field of the flag.

The union jack is displayed at the opening and closing of parliament, and on national occasions. The blue ensign with the arms of Canada on it is a distinguishing flag of the government vessels of Canada; the mercantile marine of the Dominion has a right to use the red ensign with the arms of Canada on it.

The governor-general has authority to use a plain union jack in the centre of which are the Dominion arms, surrounded by a garland of maple leaves and surmounted by a crown. Imperial regulations at present for some reason limit the use of this flag to occasions when the governor-general is "embarked in boats or other vessels."

The union jack is ordered to be flown at the government house at Ottawa on ordinary occasions; the royal standard at the government house at Ottawa and Quebec, and at the residences in Quebec and Halifax on the king's birthday and on the days of his majesty's accession and coronation.

On the Toronto government house, the private flag of the lieutenant-governor is used; and other lieutenant-governors have the same right, though the union jack is flown on ordinary occasions at Quebec. This provincial capital appears, also, as I have shown, to occupy an exceptional position with respect to the uses of the royal standard.

CHAPTER II

We have now to review the nature of the functions of the senate and house of commons, who, with the king (represented by a governor-general), constitute the parliament of Canada.

SENATE

Two houses always formed part of the provincial legislatures of British North America from 1791 until 1867, when Ontario, whose example has been followed by all but two of the other provinces of the confederation, decided to confine her legislature to an elected assembly and the lieutenant-governor.

The upper house or senate of the Dominion, bearing the name which goes back to the days of ancient Rome, and also invites comparison with the distinguished body which forms so important a part in the congress or national legislature of the United States; but neither in its constitution nor in other respects does it resemble those great assemblies.

Three great divisions of Canada: (1) the Maritime Provinces (2) Ontario, and (3) Quebec, were in 1867, each given an equal representation of twenty-four members to afford a special protection to their interests in the upper house.

Since 1867, the entrance of other provinces has disturbed this plan. Manitoba was given two in 1870 to be increased to three when the population rose to 50,000, and four when it rose to 71,000, which happened in 1882 and 1892 respectively. British Columbia was given three senators when it came into the confederation, and the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were each given four senators when they were created.

In 1915, the British North America Act was amended at the request of Canada, and four great divisions were created, each to have twenty-four senators as follows:—

1. Ontario, 24
  2. Quebec, 24
  3. Maritime Provinces: Nova Scotia, 10; New Brunswick, 10; Prince Edward Island, 4; Total, 24
  4. Western Provinces: Manitoba, 6; British Columbia, 6; Saskatchewan, 6; Alberta, 6; Total, 24.
- but this increase of nine senators was not to take place during the lifetime of the then existing parliament.

The senators are appointed under the great seal of Canada, by the governor-general.

Letter was read from Messrs Guy and Moriarty respecting the road diversion on secs 25, and 36-42-4-w4 on the west side of this municipal district stating that the price offered for the land would be accepted, but they would require paying for the fencing. Council, Dumont moved that this be left in the hands of Coun McCluskey.

Secretary was then instructed to write Messrs Guy and Moriarty that they would be recompensed for the fencing.

Secretary was instructed to write to the Department asking for the payment of the Road Grant promised in July.

Call For Seed Oats: Exhibits Wanted For Provincial Fair

Co-Operation Sought In The Matter
Of Seed Oat Supply

The Chauvin Agricultural Society request us to publish this communication, and invite those able to comply with this letter to correspond with the secretary, F. H. Perry Edmonton, Oct. 29th 1921.

Dear Sir:

The Department has received some inquiries for seed oats, both from Canadian and American seed houses, and no doubt will receive many more such inquiries before spring.

The request no doubt will be for white oats and for such varieties as Banner, Victor, Abundance and Gold Rain, of good, clean, bright, heavy oats and in car lots only. Oats that contain more than one wild oat per pound will not likely be considered, at all and they must also be reasonably free from other grains or foreign matter.

Our idea and efforts are to put the farmer in direct communication with the buyer and with this in view we ask your kind co-operation in this matter.

I am,
Yours very truly,
J. D. SMITH,
Superintendent.

Here is another letter to which your attention is drawn.

SEED AND BRANCH
DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

At the Fairs Convention held in Calgary last February I promised that I would give your Society notice of our next Provincial Seed Fair and I have now been informed by the Department that this Provincial Seed Fair will be held in Edmonton in conjunction with the Provincial Dairy and Provincial Fairs Convention which will be held about the middle of February 1922.

The Hon. Mr. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, has expressed himself very much in favor of such a fair and is anxious that all agricultural societies will get behind this proposition and try to make it a success. He is interested in all seed grain, grasses, etc., but especially anxious that a good exhibit will (Continued on page four) be made of grasses and clover seeds. The Department will offer $200 as a special inducement for the Agricultural Societies to gather up the very best exhibits in their district. This $200, in all probability, will be divided into three prizes, first, second and third. At the time of writing the Department has not decided upon the full details re these exhibits but we feel that if each agricultural society would notify its members about this fairs and have each individual farmer prepare his exhibit and send it to the secretary of the Society, then the secretary could pack all the exhibits in boxes, with the exception of potatoes, and ship them by freight to Edmonton. Potatoes, of course, would be better to be expressed as they no doubt would freeze coming in by freight. In this way it would eliminate a lot of trouble to the individual exhibitors, simplify matters at this end and coming to the Fair in this shape the exhibits could be placed in the space allotted to that Agricultural Society.

We hope to have the prize list out in good time, which would be very similar to the one issued last year, but we would be glad to know as soon as possible whether, or not it is the intention of your society to enter this competition. When you are selecting your exhibit for competition, remember it will be the quality and not quantity upon which the judges will place their awards.

Your very truly,

J. D. SMITH, Superintendent

Judge's Report On

The Chauvin Fair

Immediately following we publish, at the request of the Agricultural Society, the official report of the Chauvin Fair. The summary is brief but it is gratifying to note that it is highly commendatory.

Chauvin:—A very successful Fair. Splendid exhibit of horses for good quality. Fair exhibit of cattle. A great interest taken in the judging of both cattle and horses. Fair was well managed and conducted; and the people take a great interest in their Fair. Both the President and directors are good workers, and the Fair is well supported by the farmers and town people. This Fair was a success without any outside attraction.

A Halloween party was held in the schoolhouse Friday afternoon. The decorations were in black and yellow. The guests enjoyed the program immensely, thanks to teacher and pupils.

Funeral Service At La Pearl

A funeral service was preached in the LaPearl church Nov. 6th by request of the ladies of the church and the friends of the late John Young, who died in the Royal Alexander hospital Edmonton.

A most impressive sermon was preached from Psalm 116:1 5, verse. Referring to the radiance of a life that is indwelt by the holy spirit: Giving a warning to young and old not to put off their day of grace, the preacher asked his hearers each to set his house in order, never losing sight of Christ, but keeping the ideal always before their eyes, and thus become more like Christ who died for us and rose again.

Itou Ladies Aid, who undertook the arrangements for this dance. If these facts had been known earlier, the Fram G.G.A. would not have chosen Nov. 11th as the date for their social. Much dissatisfaction was expressed at the lateness of the arrangements for the Brady dance, but in the end it was decided that the Fram G.G.A. would postpone their basket social from Nov. 11 until Friday Nov. 18th. In doing this they hope that their action will be understood, and also that their social on Nov. 18th will be an unqualified success.

Postponement

The basket social and dance announced for Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, has been postponed until Friday November 18th 1921.

This has been done in order that the returned soldiers may have no opposition from this association to their dance to be held in Brady School on November 18th.

Armistice Day Celebrations—Political Meeting—Ladies Aid Sale & Dance Mollen Newborn's Arm Broken

Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, will be celebrated this year in Brady school by the a dance given in honor of our returned soldiers under the auspices of the Manitou Lake Ladies Aid. As this seems the most fitting date on which to hold any function for our returned men, all those of Brady District should endeavor to contribute their bit towards making this a memorable and enjoyable occasion. There seems so little we can do that when the occasion arises one and all should work with a will to do something to show our returned soldiers how we appreciate all they have done for us and that the memory of their deeds will remain fresh in our minds through the years to come. We hope a soldiers dance on Armistice Day may be established as an annual event in Brady School and that everyone in the district will join in to make it the happy success it should be.

If all the ladies will please bring baskets, the Manitou Ladies Aid will provided for all other necessities. Come on, everyone and make this the success of the season.

Mr. K. W. Coe secretary of the Fram U.G.G. informs us that his committee has decided to postpone their dance, which was dated for Nov. 11th until Nov. 18th. Don't forget the date and everybody turn out to make their dance a success, as they were kind enough to postpone their dance for our dance at Brady.

Before this issue of the Chronicle reaches the subscribers of this district, the New National Policy Committee meeting at Fram School and Wells School will be over, but we sincerely hope the meetings will have the full attendance they deserve. With candidate, S. Bingham M.L.A. and C. C. Stollner as speakers we look for the farmers to turn out in full force to show their interest in their own welfare. However, we will be more in a position to say a few words apropos of this affair in next week's Argus.

The Manitou Ladies Aid are holding their first annual sale of work, followed by a dance, in the new Artland school, on Friday, December 11. As the aid is an institution of less than a year's duration it is something like an infant taking first steps, a little wobbly on its feet, but still brave to try. We hope all the good people interested in the splendid work the Aid is trying to do will come and make it one of the most successful functions of the year, and give the Ladies Aid fresh hope for the coming year. The aid is trying to get the U. band to come and provide the music for the evening, which will be one of the attractions for all our younger dancing folks. Ladies please to bring baskets, and come and buy some of the articles on sale. Don't forget the date—December 11th.

A Ladies Aid sewing meeting will be held at Mrs. George Lawson's home on Wednesday, November 16th at 2 o'clock. The members are requested to come, if possible, to get everything in shape for the sale. Incidentally some business may be transacted.

The Artland School is rapidly approaching completion under the capable hands of the Waterman-Watbury crew, with Mr. Albert Griffith as foreman. They expect to finish the work in two weeks, all being well. The school is 24 by 36 feet, a very good size for a school, with a good maple floor which will last for years and still keep its good appearance. We hope our school will be the scene of many happy social gathering of people from the district around, darethey are to come.

As Artland has been rather handicapped for a suitable place for any social meetings the school will prove a great asset to Artland for that purpose, next to its being a wonderful benefit for our children numbering at say "Artland is too small free. Yka around thirty. Surely no one can say "Artland is too small for a school".

We were very sorry to hear of the serious accident which happened to Mollen, little daughter of Chas Newborn, on Friday morning. We understand, that while on their way to school, the children were thrown out from their democrat when it collided with a gate post, and the girl's arm was broken at the elbow. As quickly as possible she was rushed to Lashburn hospital and thence to Saskatoon, where the arm was set, and, according to last reports is doing well.

Coming To The Ball?

The event of the season is without doubt the Veterans Masquerade Ball to be held in the I.O.O.F. hall, Friday night. There will be good music and good prizes are offered. Every lover of the picturesque should attend this event, ending to commence at 9 p.m., opening with a grand march. Masks must be worn until 12 midnight. Masqueraders will please to bear in mind that to unmask before the judging means disqualification. Everybody is invited to come and to have a good time.

Chauvin Is Now Reg'l Headquarters

A very pleasant evening was spent by the officers and men of the 19th Alberta Dragoons at their smoking concert last Saturday evening. Early in the programme we counted 42 in the hall, and doubtless over 50 men were present.

An informal speech was delivered at the commencement of the proceedings by the commanding officer, Harry Strachan, who outlined how the Chauvin troop had grown. From being a single troop it had grown into a squadron, and in recognition of this headquarters had been established at Chauvin. They were allowed to get their kits down, and equipment for 50 men, valued at between $20,000 and $30,000 would be located at this point. A troop was also to be formed at Wainwright, Robert Hunter being in charge of this duty. Strachan dealt at length on a number of purely regimental questions, epitomising his remarks in the statement that they were to be the "soldiers of to-day" rather than the "foes of yesterday." Particular reference was made to the Church parade to be held on the afternoon of Sunday, November 13th and the hope was expressed that not only would every man of the 19th Alberta Dragoons turn out to parade, but that every returned man in the district would attend.

It is expected that an overseas parade will officiate, and that the Wainwright band will be in attendance. It will be necessary to hold this between the train times. The parade is to turn out at 1:30 p.m. sharp.

An interesting episode of the smoker was the challenge issued by Lt. MacKenzie to Lt. Pitman to a shooting match. The challenge was heartily taken up amidst great enthusiasm and a good contest is expected at an early date.

Refreshments were served to all after which the real good sing song was enjoyed in which most of those present contributed in some way, or at least joined in the chorus.

The Spinster Return To Ribstone, Nov. 21

The Ribstone W.I. held their meeting on Saturday November 5th in the Municipal Hall. There was a good attendance and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Secretary was authorised to pay various little debts which were brought forward.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

with experience of farming needs, is the only logical representative of his fellow farmers are in danger of introducing that form of government in which each fights for his 'party or class, and none fight for the state.'

Would these same people if they had a lawsuit with a neighbor threatening them,—consult the Big Noise of their particular local for legal advice (no matter how remarkable his variety of noises) or would they seek a real lawyer to help them win their case? Or if Friend Wife required a surgical operation, would they submit her to the kind but unskilled hand of a neighbor woman? We'll say they wouldn't,—The Specialist every time!

They why be more shortsighted in our national viewpoint?

It is conceivable that lacking technical knowledge the Big Noise of the local may easily become an uncertain Squeak when he gets to Ottawa.

We have a lot less admiration for his style than for the honest to goodness farmer who frankly prefers being a good farmer to being a mere echo of a farmer's convention.

A farmer is the logical choice to send to a purely agricultural conference but the Dominion parliament is far to all classes, has to be more than that. It therefore follows that the man we send has to be imbued with a foursquare sense of responsibility to the needs of all classes, and with the power to make it felt in the assembly. To do this effectually he should be competent of past conditions, as well as present. To should have the broad instincts of the statesman to avoid becoming a factionist and as suitable backing to all these, he must have the broad education and training calculated to make his natural gifts effective.

What farmer candidate no matter how willing, industrious, or excellent in farming ideas can claim leisure enough to attain to such knowledge and grasp of legislative measures and world economics, as present conditions call for? Scan the record of the well meaning past member for Cochrane last year in the provincial house! What did he accomplish? Spoke a word in favor of Mrs. McKinney's prohibition amendment—and then voted against it purely through ignorance! That was all!

Some of the best men in the U. F. A. have confided to us that the farmers will have to give their men some parliamentary training, before they'll ever set Ottawa afire. Even H. W. Wood shook in his shoes when he heard of the farmers victory, and did his best to keep it from going on the rocks right off, by getting lawyer Brownlee to the rescue.

In view of these facts, and in view of the blindness of many farmer voters of what these points to we feel like parading "Whom the Gods would destroy" into "Whom the U. F. A. bosses would deceive,—they first make blind!

SOME THINGS WE DO KNOW

There are a lot of things connected with the farmer's party some of us don't approve of, but taken in the broad sense this is the only federal party in Canada today that appeals to real Liberalism (Gladstone Liberalism). I matters not whether they are rural or urban. To those who supported reciprocity in 1911 it also must appeal.

Tom Cregar is too good a business man to want free trade right off the bat. He wants a deviation of the real encouragement of national basic industries rather than artificial ones. A reciprocity arrangement between the United States and Canada that would be mutual in benefit. Preferential trade relations with the mother country, and would be equitable and just.

Now here is the cap sheet, this is really what forced the writers hand. This is published in a Winnipeg paper, but written by the writer of "Some things we want to know".

"We consider this business of the Western farmer going on a crusade against the old party system, at a time when his financial affairs call for him to attend to first things first (i.e. the wheat and cattle proposition) is a case of untimely idealism which may land us on the rocks. As things are now, even should he win, if his party is led by men with no clear idea of the way out, in the matter of public policy, what serves him all the high sounding pre-election speeches of groups or Progressive party leaders."

Mr. Editor, friends and readers if there is a sore spot in the farmers hearts this hits it.

Has not Premier Meighen and his cabinet ministers been urged in and out of parliament, by friends and foes alike to continue the wheat board and have they not turned a deaf ear to the urging, until now on the eve of an election.

Has not the live stock interests been urging them 18 months to go to Washington and frankly ask our American friends if we could not arrange to trade some federal stores for American products that we need, and hasn't the Government inferred that it could be undignified to offer to trade with Uncle Sam.

The unspoken word never does harm.

HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

verner-general, on the recommendation of his council.

A senator must be the full age of thirty years, and have real and personal property worth four thousand dollars over and above his liabilities.

The speaker of the senate, who is the presiding officer but with much less power and importance than the speaker of the house of commons, is appointed by the governor in council.

In legislation, the senate has the same powers as the house of commons, except with respect to measures imposing taxes, or expending the public moneys. Such measures must commence in the house of commons, and the senate cannot even amend or make any changes in them. Divorce bills are always presented first in the senate, but this is simply as a matter of convenience. It has no greater legal power than the commons.

The senators of the province of Quebec must reside in the divisions for which they are chosen, or have their property qualification therein—a provision intended to maintain in the upper house—but in the case of the other provinces, the law simply requires the members to reside within their province.

If a senator becomes bankrupt, if he is absent for two sessions, if he becomes a citizen of another country or if he is convicted of crime, his seat is declared vacant.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

It is in the elected house that political power rests. Its majority makes and unmake cabinets. No ministry can remain in office without its support and confidence.

After the taking of the last census of the population of Canada, the representation was re-arranged as follows:—

Province	Members
Ontario .....	82
Quebec .....	65
Nova Scotia .....	16
New Brunswick .....	11
Manitoba .....	15
British Columbia .....	13
Prince Edward Island .....	4
Saskatchewan .....	16
Alberta .....	12
Yukon Territory .....	1

Total .....

The representation must be readjusted after every census, which is taken every ten years—the last in 1911.

The British North America Act provides that the French Canadian province of Quebec must always have a fixed number of sixty-five members, and each of the other provinces is assigned such a number of members as bears the same proportion to the number of its population as the number sixty-five bears to the population of Quebec as ascertained by the census.

British Columbia, under the terms of the union, cannot have representation reduced below six, and under the 1915 amendment to the British North America Act every province is entitled to at least as many members as it has senators.

Under the census of 1911, 39 members has been given for each 30,819 persons in a province—in other words, that is the unit of representation until rearranged in accordance with the next census.

No property qualification is now required from a member of the house of commons, but he must be a British subject by birth or naturalization. He must not be a person convicted of crime, as the house would in such cases expel him. If he becomes insane, his seat becomes vacant under the law of Parliament. He need not reside in the district for which he is elected to parliament. He receives—and so do senators—twenty-five hundred dollars as an indemnity or allowance if the session exceeds thirty days in length, and he is entitled to a free pass over all railways.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

The speaker of the commons is the presiding officer, or chairman, of the house—an office of great dignity and responsibility. He is elected by the members of the commons on the first day of a new parliament, or whenever a vacancy occurs by death or resignation.

The speaker is assisted by a deputy speaker, also elected at the beginning of each new parliament, and upon each vacancy.

The deputy speaker presides in the absence of the speaker and when the house sits in committee of the whole which it does to allow greater freedom of discussion when doing part of its work.

Either French or English may be spoken in debate, and all the laws and records are reported by an official body of shorthand writers.

The printed debates are popularly called the "Hansard" Hansard was the name of the reporter who, for many years made and published the reports of the debates in the Imperial House of Commons, and the English name was adopted in Canada.

OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE

The principal officer in the senate is the clerk, who is appointed by the governor in council. He keeps the records of the senate, and sits at the table during the sitting and takes and reports the numbers on divisions. He has also the title of clerk of the parliament, and as such is the custodian of the originals of all statutes. The clerk in the house of commons occupies a similar position and performs similar duties in the other house.

The senate and the house of commons each have a lawyer to attend to the legal work and advise the speakers and other officers. In the senate he is called the law clerk, and in the house of commons the parliamentary counsel.

There are also the assistant clerks and other officers and clerks, the shorthand reporters who report the debates, and the translators, for, as we have seen, all laws, records and documents are in both English and French, and either language may be used in debate.

The sergeant-at-arms is the principal officer of the commons. He preserves peace and order in the house, arrests offenders against the privileges of the house, and carries the mace—the emblem of authority of the house—before the speaker on official occasions when parliament is sitting. He also has the charge of the papers, and subordinate officers of the house and the various offices.

In addition to the sergeant-at-arms, the senate has also a gentleman usher of the black rod, who is the officer commanded by the governor-general to summon the commons to attend him in the senate chamber at the beginning or end of a session of parliament. A duty he performs with many bows, a curious survival of what are to us the absurd ceremonies of ages long since gone by.

Armistice Day

Contributed

Announcements of different functions to be held on Armistice Day makes one pause to wonder if people realize what the day means. While all allied nations as one are celebrating this day. While the United States is following the example of Britain, France and Italy by interring an unknown soldier to symbolize all the heroic dead of the war. While a British mother is placing a wreath on that soldiers grave in which are included maple leaves from Canada. While throughout the length and breadth of our land the event is being purposely celebrated, and even as in our own district, functions are advertised to take place with no mention of the words "Soldier" or "Veteran" in them. With objects worthy no doubt, in themselves, yet having not the slightest connection with all the day stands for.

It makes one pause, I say, to wonder if we are forgetting. I am afraid we are.

There are many other days to select from, when these other worthy causes could be forwarded, and no doubt the returned men will only be too willing to lend a helping hand. But surely Armistice day should be left to the soldiers. They made it anyway.
